

Analyze product sales by channel and category

Use case

If you want to track product sales by channel and category, you can quickly configure a Two dimensional widget to show these metrics with sumUp for monday.com.

Configuration

1

Add the Two dimensional widget to your dashboard via + Add widget > Apps > Installed Apps.

2

Select your sales column under Which column do you want to display?

3

Select your channel column under How to group items on x-axis?

4

Select your category column under How to group items on y-axis?

5

Optionally configure Additional options to control the number of rows per page and the number of minutes between widget updates.
