_snip_write_protection

Check the write protection option if you want to prevent a field to be updated, if it already has a value. If checked, only empty fields will be set.